RunMyProcess one of 50 Smartest Companies

Posted on 23rd November 2017

RunMyProcess is honored to be chosen as one of the 50 Smartest Companies of the Year 2017 by "The Silicon Review Magazine". Silicon Review is one of the most trusted business and technology magazines in the high tech industry and so we are proud to have both our company and our CEO, Dr. Yuji Takada, featured in the article.

Proud to be an innovation subsidiary of Fujitsu since 2013, we at RunMyProcess have continuously been pushing the boundaries of technical innovation and pursuing ever bigger and more interesting digital problems to solve. By helping businesses quickly connect their processes to an ever increasing array of digital technologies we solve meaningful problems that make life better for their customers and employees – a mission we are proud to see recognized by Silicon Review.
